AFTERNOON BREAKOUT SESSIONS
ROUND 1: 2:15-3:30 p.m.

Boosting High School & College Completion—D137-D140

More than ever, completing high school and moving on to advanced degrees and certificates is key for individual and economic prosperity. Much progress has been made to streamline the pathway from high school into college, and shift the focus to successful postsecondary completion. Yet, our high school graduation rate remains inexcusably low. This session will explore the proposed changes and key strategies to measurably improve high school completion.

Lindsey Capps, Acting Chief Education Officer
Ben Cannon, Executive Director, Higher Education Coordinating Commission
Salam Noor, Deputy Superintendent, Oregon Public Instruction
Suzanne Bonamici, United States Congresswoman

Updating Oregon's Health Care Strategy—E141-E144

It's been ten years since health care was added to the Oregon Business Plan with strategies focused on increasing affordable insurance coverage options, reducing cost growth, and improving quality of care. Since then, stakeholders across Oregon, including government, purchasers, and the health care industry have collaborated to implement delivery system, financing, and coverage reforms. At this session, you'll hear about Oregon's successes and the challenges ahead of us. We'll present findings from purchaser focus groups and will engage participants in a discussion of key next steps.

Greg Van Pelt, President, Oregon Health Leadership Council
George Brown, President & CEO, Legacy Health System
Gayle M. Evans, VP of Human Resources, Unitus Community Credit Union
Jeremy Vandehey, Health Policy Advisor, Office of Governor Brown
Chip Terhune, Vice President, Government Affairs, Cambia Health Solutions

Keep Oregon Trade Moving—E145-E146

Oregon is the 14th most trade dependent state in the U.S. Traded-sector companies bring new dollars to the state and on average pay 18 percent higher wages. In the global economy, export and imports are part of the fabric of the Oregon economy. This panel will showcase the value of international trade to Oregon with perspectives from an agricultural producer and exporter, a coffee roaster and importer, a wine producer and exporter, and a freight forwarder. Representatives from the state will also share their insights and discuss Governor Brown's Keep Oregon Trade Moving initiative.

Moderator:
Doug Badger, Executive Director, Pacific Northwest International Trade Association

Portland Harbor Superfund Cleanup: What it means for every Oregonian—E147-E148

After 15 years and $110 million in environmental investigation (paid for by local governments and businesses) a cleanup plan for the Portland Harbor Superfund Site will be proposed by U.S. EPA in 2016. The costs and harbor-wide construction of the cleanup will impact every Oregonian – from utility ratepayers to businesses and workers who depend on the Willamette for their livelihood. In this session, congressional, state and local elected leaders as well as business leaders will discuss what's at stake and how the public can help shape the final cleanup decision.
